Supervisors Okay Artesia St. Project

The Board of Supervisors has appropriated funds for the widening and improvement of Broadway and Central Ave. at the approaches to Artesia Blvd. (174th St.). It was announced yesterday by Supervisor Kenneth Hahn's office.

Work will consist of widening and reconstructing the shoulders of the existing roadway at the two intersections. It is being done so that it will be possible to channelize the Broadway and Central approaches.

Channelization of the intersections to provide left turn lanes will expedite the flow of traffic and provide maximum protection for motorists making left-turn movements. Improvements are scheduled at the earliest possible date.

Torrance Youth Gets Covered Part in Film

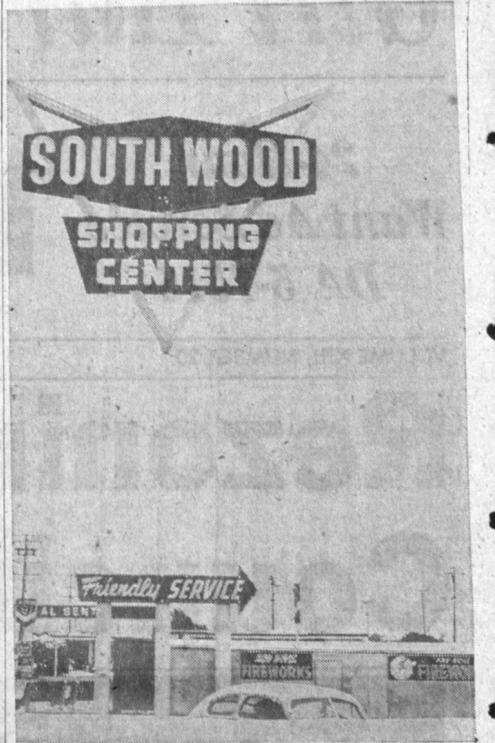

Fourteen-year-old Ronald (Ronnie) Coates of Torrance has just concluded a supporting role in the Family Films production of "This Is the Life."

The inspiration film, photographed at Keywest Studios under the direction of Lee Scholem, will be released to national television this fall.

Ronnie, a client of the Screen Children's Guild Agency of Hollywood, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Coates, 5115 Carmen St., Torrance. He has previously been seen on such television shows as: "The June Allyson Show," "The Betty Hutton Show," "G.E. Theatre," "Wagon Train" and "The Danny Thomas Show." He has also worked as a photographic model for Mead-Maddock Studios of Hollywood.

SIERRA ADVENTURE
A horse and mule pack-train trip plus thrilling battles with rod and reel are featured in a re-screening of "High Sierra Adventure" on Bill Burrud's "True Adventure" Mon., July 17 on KCOP, Channel 13, at 5:30 p.m.

WORLD BELOW
"The World Below," underwater exploration with Publisher Pete Peterson as special guest, is re-screened Thursday, July 20, on Bill Burrud's "True Adventure" on KCOP, Channel 13, at 5:30 p.m.

SWEEPSTAKE SCENE—Southwood Shopping Center, located at the corner of Sepulveda and Palos Verdes Blvd., will launch its first annual "Sweepstakes" today and continued through Saturday. Gifts, ranging in value from $10 to $25, will be awarded to lucky coupon holders by owners of the fine shops and stores in the center. Drawing will be held Saturday at 6 p.m. and winners need not be present.

Speed Reading Course at Harbor
An additional speed reading class has been opened during the evening hours for the summer session at Harbor College, according to an announcement today by Dwight L. Garner, chairman of the humanities division at the college. The instructor for the class, Mrs. Kathryn H. Clauset, holds a master's degree from UCLA and has taught English and reading at the college during the previous year.
